case the no. on the rolls is 131 now.

2 The extra rent of Rs. 10, over and above the rent of Rs. 25 that the D.C. has been empowered to sanction in this connection, is said to be necessary on account of the size & structure of the building.

3 Mr. Adiappa is reported to have made a gift of furniture costing Rs. 180 to the school.

4 In this connection the D.C. has stated that he has authorized the levy of fees at certain rates in the Elem^y. classes of the school. In all Govt. Schools Elementary Education has been declared to be free in G.O. no. 1087-97 / Edn 340-07-6 & 30.7.1908. The school now opened is a Govt. School and the fees proposed to be levied contravene the principle enunciated in the above-refd. G.O.

5 The D.C. of Edn. has not refd. to the said order nor has he stated under what circumstances the levy of fees has become necessary. If sanctioned in this case a similar levy of fees in all the schools of the State would have 13 In the matter of remitting fees, we have already gone against the general order in spirit when the aided 7Rs & 5Rs schools came into existence. It is now sought to be further encroached upon by this contrivance of a School Committee. I think that the question should be squarely faced & decided straightforwardly.

Long Report in Edn. 42-15 /14

50) In July 1915 the Dy. of Edn. reported to Govt. that he had sanctioned ~~the opening of a~~ school in pursuance of the Scheme of compulsory Edn. the opening of a school in the Jumma masjid Road, B'lore city. In this connection he said that he had authorized the levy of fees at certain rates in the Elem^y. classes of the school. In Augt. 1915 two more schools were reported to have been opened one at Sankarpura and the other at Sebadi-pura, Bangalore city, where also fees were ~~re levied~~ proposed to be levied.

51) The principle of levying fees in Elem^y. classes of Govt. schools being a step ~~taken~~ to be taken against the policy of free prim^y. edn. in Govt. schools laid down in G.O. 30.7.1908 the opening of the three schools was sanctioned and the question of reimposing fees in the Elem^y. classes was reserved for consideration at a meeting of the Council.

52) The Council considered on 25.11.15 the Prepn. of a general note on the question. A note was prepd. & submd. on 27.11.15 when the member in charge ~~regd~~ ~~called~~ called for a statement from the Dy. of Edn. under certain heads. ~~The~~

In the last reminder the D. of E stated that he was waiting till the Conference session was over as it was proposed to discuss the subject there.

55) The D. of E is apparently disinclined to tackle this difficult and rather delicate question - in these circumstances I feel have to pass the necessary orders - The D. of E thinks that in each place the question may be settled with reference to the willingness of the people to contribute towards primary education but in my opinion such thinking is not

The subject is very difficult and involves several complicated issues. As there is a strong opinion in favour of even Secondary Education being made free it is not likely that the proposal to levy fees for primary education will receive much support. At the same time the present situation involves several anomalies. The matter may perhaps be considered in Council and the general lines of policy determined upon and placed before the next session of the Legislative Assembly

NOTE—Contn. sheet.

Serial No.

Compulsory Primary Education must be free in the sense that the pupil should not be required to pay every month school fees for being allowed to attend the school.

Of course there can be no free education in the sense that it costs nothing to any one.

2. The solution of the difficulty lies in levying a half anna cess on land revenue instead of levying fees and contribution from parents, etc. The Village School Fund strengthened by this cess and suitable Government grants should maintain all primary schools throughout the State in which no fees should be charged. These schools may be called 'Local Fund Primary Schools.' Unless a responsible body agrees to maintain any primary school as a free grant-in-aid institution, it should be converted into a Local Fund Primary School. One of the conditions of giving grant to any school should be that its primary classes if any should be free.

3. The half anna cess will give about 3 to 3½ lakhs. This will suffice to convert the 6,000 aided fee-levying primary schools to free Local Fund Schools, the exta cost being at the rate of about Rs. 4/- per school per month. This will place the existing 8,500 primary schools on a satisfactory

NOTE—Contn. sheet.

satisfactory basis. For further expansion --- either the cess will have to be raised or a grant to the Village School Fund made from the general revenues, say the proceeds of the income-tax.

4. The whole fund will be administered by District Boards after they are ripe for controlling primary education within their jurisdictions.

A note on the Levy of Fees in Primary Classes.

In Government Order No. 3116-32/Edn. 231-06-3 dated 4th October 1907 fees were ordered to be abolished in the Upper Primary Classes II & III of Village Elementary Schools.

In G.O.No. 1087-97/Edn. 340-07-6 dated 30th July 1908 Government ordered that school fees should be abolished in classes IV & V of the Village Elementary Schools, classes I, II & III of Taluk Vernacular Schools and classes Infant I & II of all Anglo Vernacular Schools maintained from State and Village School funds.

These two orders were passed in furtherance of a policy of encouraging the expansion of primary education throughout the State by affording facilities for free primary vernacular education when there was no idea of making education compulsory. The total loss of income on this account was then calculated at Rs. 16,908, and from this an amount of Rs. 7,164 was expected to be made good from fees paid for the study of English which was to be compulsory from class III upwards in all Anglo Vernacular Schools.

2. The scheme of compulsory education was introduced in 1913, when (October 1913) a regulation was passed by the Government of Mysore for the purpose.

As a first instalment of the scheme the regulation was enforced in 15 selected centres and a set of rules was also promulgated for the guidance of all concerned in July 1914. Twelve more places were brought under the operation of the Regulation in June 1915. The scheme so far as it has progressed is costing Government Rs. 50,000/- every year.

3. The figures given in the Appendix to the Note will be of use in showing how little effect merely making elementary education free has in increasing the extent of primary education. It will be seen therefrom that in one year we have been able to make more progress in education under a system of liberal grant-in-aid rules than we did in the preceding five years.

4. In order to promote greater expansion of primary education throughout the State it has been found necessary to start schools on a much larger scale than before and to enlist the co-operation of the people in opening them wherever possible so that the available funds may be utilised to the fullest advantage. Under this system it is proposed to afford special facilities to grant-in-aid schools in preference to Government Schools. But for this system of grant-in-aid schools we should not have been able to cope with the demand for schools. The cost of a Government School as compared with that of a grant-in-aid school in villages is nearly double. By opening Government Schools we not only incur extra expenditure but the people themselves lose the interest they would otherwise have in employing the school to the best advantage by bearing a part of the cost. Under the grant-in-aid system the people are obliged to levy fees in some way or other, direct or indirect, i.e., ~~that~~ they have either to gaurantee jointly the amount of contribution to be paid by them or arrange to raise the amount by fees. If Elementary education is free in Government Schools people who contribute towards grant-in-aid schools have reason to consider themselves unfairly treated.

5. The subject of levying fees for Elementary education was discussed at the last Representative Assembly Session. The chief arguments advanced were that education cannot be made compulsory unless it is at the same time made free. But the majority of the members after discussion were inclined to the view that there was no objection to levy fees from the children of parents who could afford to pay fees and that it was enough to exempt all children the income of whose parents was below Rs. 25/- a month. As regards the system of grant-in-aid schools the general trend of the discussion was that the existing rules were sufficiently liberal and that only in this way it would be possible for us to provide as many schools as were required to produce the high standard of literacy demanded by Government.

6. In this connection it would be interesting to read the debate on the motion of the Hon'ble Mr. A . S. Krishna Rao in the Madras Legislative Council to empower the Municipalities in the Presidency to make elementary education in their respective areas free and compulsory. The supporters of the resolution conceded that to a certain extent the Municipal town in which compulsory education was to be introduced should bear a fair proportion of this cost and the Municipal Act should be amended to allow taxpayers to tax themselves for compulsory education. A similar principle underlies the suggestion made in the Representative Assembly that the cost of Primary education may be met by the levy of an Educational Cess.

7 Under present circumstances therefore I think the proposal of the Inspector General to levy fees in the Primary classes of certain schools at Bangalore may be sanctioned as it does not conflict with any recognised principle. No action of Government should give rise to an impression that Government desire to supplant private effort. There is already a large number of aided schools in the City and attendance at such schools is likely to be affected if side by side with them Government Schools where no fees are levied. As Sir Harold Stuart in his reply has pointed out parents are more often deterred from sending children to schools because they wanted their labour than bacause they cannot pay the fees and that if there was a proper voluntary agency to persuade people to send their children to schools, the attendance would be improved inspite of levy of fees.

8. After all it ~~was~~ is proposed to introduce compulsory education in a few selected centres and the objection to benefit people residing in towns at the cost of the general tax payer is not without force.

In these circumstances, I think the orders of 1907 and 1908 require some modification and also the question of levying educational cesses wherever it is decided to introduce compulsory education should be considered.

Education and Agriculture Departments.

SIR,

With reference to Government Order No.3627-30Edn.57-14-5 dated 30th March 1915, sanctioning the opening of a number of schools in connection with the Scheme of Compulsory Education, I have the honour to submit for the information of Government that one school was opened in the Jumma Masjid Road, Ulsoorpet Division of the Bangalore City, on the 7th ultimo. The total number of boys admitted till now is 131, of whom 77 were not attending any school hitherto. The school is located in a well-ventilated building newly constructed by Mr. Adiappa, Sowkar and Honorary Magistrate, and can accommodate about 200 boys. I have tentatively sanctioned the following scale of establishment.

Head Master	on Rs.	25	per mensem.
Asst. do.	"	20	do.
Asst. do.	"	15	do.
Asst. do.	"	12	do.
Peon	"	7	do.
Sweeper	"	5	do.
Scavenger	"	1	do.
Contingency	"	2	do.
House rent	"	35	do.

		Rs.122.

In Government Order No.3627-30"Edn.57-14-5 dated 30th March 1915, I have been given power to sanction house-rent up to Rs.25 for Bangalore and Mysore Cities. In the present case, the rent to be given is Rs.35, which, taking the size and the structure of the building, is not at all much. The extra rent of Rs.10 may therefore be kindly sanctioned.

In this connection, I beg to bring to the notice of Government the pleasing fact of Mr. Adiappa's making a gift of furniture costing about Rs.150 to the school. I beg also to add that as desired by the Committee for Compulsory Education, I have authorized the levy of school fees at the rate of two annas per pupil in the first two classes and at four annas per month per month in the next two higher classes. I append for the information of Government a copy of the resolution of the Committee. The fees collected will be credited to the Government Treasury.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Ta. Shamarao.

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF EDUCATION IN MYSORE,

FROM

C. R. REDDY, ESQ., M.A.,
Offg. Inspector-General of Education in Mysore.

To

P.G.D'Souza, Esq., B.A., B.L.,
Secretary to the Government of
His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore,
Departments of Education & Agriculture,
Bangalore.

SIR,

With reference to your letter No.2647/Edn.42-15-16 dated 8th December 1915 and subsequent correspondence ending with D.O.No.10864/Edn.42-15 dated 4th May 1918 in regard to the levy of fees in Elementary Schools, I have the honour to submit statements prepared in 1915 and therefore somewhat out of date which show that the expected net increase of income which would accrue to the State by levy of fees in Primary classes of all Government Schools throughout the -- State was about Rs.70,500 as shown below:-

Increase in fee receipts from	A.V Schools	Rs.10 088
do.	Taluk Kannada Boys' Schools	2,970
do.	Village Elementary Schools	50,285
do.	Anglo-Hindustani Schools	401
do.	Taluk Hindustani Boys' Schools	2,325
do.	V.E. Hindustani Boys' Schools	4,437
	Total	Rs.70,506

I am sorry that owing to lack of time it is not possible to bring these figures up to date but it may be assumed that the ~~next~~ net increase will now amount to not less than Rs 80,000. According to a draft in the office I find that it was the intention of Mr. Shama Rao to recommend the levy of fees in the primary classes of all Government Schools.

One important consideration which justifies the levy of fees in Primary Schools is the necessity for bringing the Government schools into line with the aided schools where, of necessity, fees are levied. Any disparity in this respect between Government and aided schools will render the work of the aided schools more difficult and will tend to discourage private efforts.

As things are, it cannot be held to be strictly true that Primary Education is in the fullest sense of the term free. The number of Government Primary Schools is 2,352 and that of aided schools is 6,149 and in regard to aided schools though the pupils may be technically free, yet the parents or the localities are expected to pay a contribution in the shape of 3 to 5 rupees for the masters' salary and other levies. Even in regard to Government schools, buildings, especially in rural parts, are not given unless villagers contribute half the cost. Under these circumstances there is no violation of principle involved if fees are levied in all Government Primary Schools.

People of villages in which only grant-in-aid schools exist clamour for their conversion into Government schools as they think it a great hardship that they should not be treated with the same generosity as is shown to localities to which Government schools are given. More recently they have begun to agitate for "compulsory" schools -knowing that compulsory schools meant Government schools which would free them from the financial burden which they now carry. No imputation rests on the people's zeal for education; but this financial motive, which is nothing sinful, is a contributing cause to the increasing demand for extending the operation of the Compulsory Regulation.

At the same time, the levy of fees with whatever concessions attended will inevitably lead to the creation of difficulties in the working of the Compulsory Education Scheme, the operation of which

which has so far been attended with little or no coercion. Well-to-do parents will refuse to declare in writing that they are unable to pay school fees for their children but will in practice delay payment with the consequence that their boys will have to be sent out of school and coercive measures will have to be adopted to make those children attend school again. The Compulsory Education Scheme will thereby run the risk of incurring some odium. Further there is the question of principle to be solved whether compulsory education does not of necessity imply free education, i.e. education maintained from regularly levied provincial or local taxes without recourse to special payments depending on moral pressure or sentiment and pressing on the willing few only.

If universal education upto a stated standard is the ideal, it would necessitate free and compulsory education to the standard adopted and the introduction of the grant-in-aid principle within the sphere of such education becomes difficult to justify. If on the other hand universality and the compulsion that is a necessary means to its achievement are set aside as impracticable for the present, the levy of fees will be justified.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

C. N. Reddy

Inspector General.

TNR/8-5.
